

NOLS Wilderness Medicine Wilderness First Aid Course

HOSTED BY CROSSING LATITUDES

Fast paced and hands-on, this Wilderness First Aid course covers a wide range of wilderness medicine topics for people who travel and enjoy the outdoors. Whether spending time in the backcountry is your passion or your profession, you should never have to ask, "What do I do now?" On this course, you'll learn how to prepare for the unexpected. In just a few days, you'll have the knowledge, skills and ability to make sound decisions in emergency situations. CPR is included. Everyone is welcome, no previous experience required. This course is taught in English.

Dates: June 6-8, 2025 (Friday, Saturday, Sunday)

Course hours: Friday June 6: 09:00 – 18:00

Saturday June 7: 08:00 – 18:00

Sunday June 8: 08:00-18:00

Course Location: Sörbygden Basecamp,
Sörbygden 181, 83498 Sörbygden (Bräcke County),
Sweden

The Old School (Gamla skolan) in Sörbygden is our classroom. See map below.

Course fee

SEK 6000:- (EUR 525) per person (VAT excluded). The course fee includes a 30-page NOLS Wilderness Medicine handout, a bandana with the patient assessment, equipment used during the course, CPR certification, the internationally recognised NOLS Wilderness Medicine WFA certification and Epinephrine auto injector certification.

Course Structure

This course combines theoretical lectures with hands-on sessions to train practical skills. Each day is a mix of classroom, skills sessions, scenarios, and case studies. There are no written or practical exams on this course.

All participants will learn by taking turns being "patients" and "rescuers" each day. We use fake blood to make the scenarios more realistic. The fake blood is washable, but you might have to wash twice.

If you are a NOLS WFR/WAFA graduate taking this WFA course as your WAFA/WFR recertification, you will need to complete both a practical and written test. Please email us at info@crossinglatitudes.com to ensure your eligibility to recertify on this course and we will support you in preparing for the course.

WFA Course Description

Our 3-day Wilderness First Aid (WFA) course is a fast-paced, hands-on introduction to managing common injuries, more serious emergencies, and everything in between. Lectures, demonstrations, and practical scenarios will challenge you and provide a dynamic learning environment. After the course, you'll have the knowledge, skills, and ability to make sound decisions and interventions in emergency situations.

Wilderness First Aid is different from the urban first aid. Focus is on initial and prolonged care for a patient in the back country. This course is ideal for outdoor enthusiasts and individuals in remote locations.

What can you expect of us?

- Dynamic instructors with lots of backcountry and first aid experience
- Lots of time outside with realistic scenarios
- Daily feedback from our instructors
- Intense AND rewarding days
- A curriculum that is evidence-based, not just copied out of a textbook. We teach wilderness medicine practices and protocols that are supported by a physician-based medical advisory panel and disseminated by our curriculum director. This means you're getting the latest findings and protocols in the industry.

What do we expect of you?

- That you are on time each day
- Come prepared each morning, ready to learn and participate. Revision and practice in the evenings will set you up for success.
- We hope that you will speak up when you need help, do not understand, or have any concerns.
- Be respectful of other participants and our staff – both in the classroom and during our scenarios outside. We do not accept any kind of harassment.
- We ask that all participants' cell phones and computers will be turned off during class time.
- Smoking, alcohol and/or recreational drugs are not allowed during the course hours.
- Pets are not allowed at the classroom or scenario sites during course hours. Any student bringing pets to class will be asked to leave class until the pet is safely situated in a kennel or other facility – unless it is a service dog. If you have a service dog, please email us before signing up.

What to bring?

NOLS Wilderness Medicine will bring medical equipment and outdoor gear for setting up realistic scenarios.

Expect the best but be prepared for the worst! We will be outside each day even if it rains, snows or storms. Having quality clothing and equipment is important. About our NOLS Wilderness Medicine Courses

Developed by industry experts and experienced practitioners, the NOLS curriculum is field tested by our expedition instructors, backed by research, and informed by decades of injury and illness data. These help us prepare students to respond to the most likely incidents that happen in the wilderness.

We are dedicated to equipping you with the skills and confidence needed to handle emergencies in remote settings. Through our rigorous, data-informed curriculum, you'll learn to recognize, treat, and prevent injuries and illnesses in the wilderness, and resource limited environments. Our hands-on courses, led by expert NOLS instructors, offer practical scenarios that allow you to build critical skills, empowering you to respond effectively when resources are limited and immediate help isn't available.

NOLS Wilderness Medicine Mission: The Wilderness Medicine's goal is to provide the highest quality education and information for the recognition, treatment, and prevention of wilderness emergencies.

For over a decade, NOLS Wilderness Medicine (<https://nols.edu/en/courses/wilderness-medicine/>) has been the most recognized and respected teacher of wilderness medicine, training over 600,000 students around the world, with students who work and recreate from pole to pole in all continents. At NOLS Wilderness Medicine, students learn treatment principles and decision-making skills, not the memorization of long lists. Our courses are rigorous and intensive. They will challenge your decision-making skills and get you ready. NOLS Wilderness Medicine trains participants to respond to emergencies in remote settings.

Dynamic hands-on, scenario-based learning that combines the latest updates and practical application.
